Editor's Preface

In review: What did John Bunyan say about “Metaphors”? In “[t]he Author’s Apology for his Book” John Bunyan explained that Truth was hid, to be found in the Bible’s Metaphors:

“By Metaphors I speak; Was not God’s Laws, His Gospel-Laws, in older time held forth By Types, Shadows and Metaphors? Yet loth Will any sober man be to find fault with them, lest he be found for to assault the highest Wisdom: No, he rather stoops, and seeks to find out what by pins and loops, by Calves; and Sheep; by Heifers, and by Rams, by Birds, and Herds, and by the blood of Lambs, God speaketh to him: And happy is he That finds the light, and grace that in them be. Be not too forward therefore to conclude That I want solidness; that I am rude: All things solid in shew, not solid be; All things in parables despise not we, lest things most hurtful lightly we receive; and things that good are, of our souls bereave. My dark and cloudy words they do but hold the truth, as cabinets inclose the gold. The Prophets used much by Metaphors to set forth Truth; yea, whoso considers Christ, his Apostles too, shall plainly see, that Truths to this day in such Mantles be...Sound words I know, Timothy is to use, and old Wives Fables he is to refuse; But yet grave Paul, him no where doth forbid the use of Parables; in which lay hid that Gold, those Pearls, and precious stones that were Worth digging for; and that with greatest care.” [The Pilgrim’s Progress, p. viii-ix.]

Herein are a few modern-day Parables or allegories. Remember, Jesus Christ Himself taught in Parables – Divine Truths in earthly settings, so as to make it easier for His listeners to understand present Truth. We hope and pray for the same understanding among our readers in light of the Divine Dictum in Heb. 8:5 that the Sanctuary Services were an “example and shadow of heavenly things” - the “Everlasting Gospel”.

The CEO

A Prince arrived at a very poor village from a far distant land. His Father told Him that He had 2300 days to clean-up that poor village. But He first had to become a garbage man and that He would be hated and despised and would finally end-up in a garbage dump Himself, as well as having all the junk dumped on Him.

At the end of the first 490 days everything His Father said came true. He was supposed to clean the garbage from that village but instead the people treated Him like garbage and threw Him outside of the village. But after 3 days His Father called Him out of the garbage dump for the second part of His job.

He was now promoted as the Head Chief Executive Officer of all the villages both in the far-off land of the Father, as well as the poor village which hated Him, as well as all the other towns and cities that were near and far from that poor village.

Well! The day arrived and His Father sent a team of workers, and one of them called the Prince out of a small house that a very nice person made for Him just outside of the garbage dump where they had originally placed Him. After He heard the call He came out and was dressed in white and shiny clothing ready for His new assignment. He was now the CEO or President of the company that was in charge of taking all the garbage from all those villages and placing it on the former evil worker who caused the big mess.

Unfortunately, the one who was blamed for all the trouble of scattered garbage was the Father and not this former worker who lied and deceived everyone in that poor village as well as the adjoining towns, cities and other villages.

The time came 1,810 days after returning to His Father and completing the first portion of His work (garbage Man) that he would throw out the garbage of those who would voluntarily take out their dumpsters and place them on the street. Most of those people from the poor village opted out of this deal and didn't take out their dumpsters with all the garbage that they had so that the clean-up crew could clean each village or person that accepted the voluntary offer.

Many rejected the offer but some of those people in the poor village did accept the offer and there were others in different towns and villages that became aware of this new way of handling the problem of the garbage dumps in their towns and villages and in their own lives.

Another reason for the second part of the work of the Prince was that accusations were made against the retired President who was in fact, the Father. The former evil worker stated terrible things about Him and that is the reason why the Father appointed the Prince as the new President and CEO. The Son would go before the Executive Board of the Father's house and refute all the lies and accusations against the Father.

But in order to do this, He would first have to cleanse His workers since this would reveal to the Father's house the manifold wisdom of the Father in dealing with the issue of the accusations. As well as how He would reconcile those families in the different poor villages, as well as those dwelling in the Father's house unto Himself.

The Father by way of the Son would reveal the whole program on how the issue of the garbage dump problem would be resolved. It would be explained to the citizens of the Father's house that it was to be a dual program of His son becoming garbage and filth on behalf of those individuals in the different poor villages that the former evil worker claimed as belonging to him. And later the second part of the Father's program would be the promotion of His Son to CEO and President, as well as the elimination of the garbage dump. As well as the final rain shower that He would cause to take place in the waters which the Father would prepare by way of sending His Son the Prince.

Although there was no garbage problem in the Father's house there was a stench that issued forth from the poor villages and the Father put a stop to other construction projects at His house until the problems would be resolved.

So, the date arrived at the Father's house and everyone was excited since the final order for the removal of all wastes such as dirt and gunk, grease and slime was issued by one of 3 workers. He called this final clean-up job – “the Everlasting Gospel”.

Everyone that had volunteered to take out their garbage received a special reward known as the Seal of the CEO's approval. The Father and the Prince were watching the whole affair intently and were very proud of all who volunteered and the towns and villages as well as all the rich citizens who dwelled in the Father's far-off land beheld the whole spectacle with amazement. They just couldn't believe what they were witnessing.

The citizens of the Father's house were congratulating the Father on account of His wisdom and love as well as His infinite patience. On account of the fact that up to that point it seemed to many that perhaps the former evil worker might be correct in his assessment that people who brought out their garbage were just as dirty and filthy and evil as he was. And that they didn't deserve to be promoted since they had such a bad record of pollution and filth as witnessed by the residents of the Father's house.

Some of these people had a name, they were called Laodiceans and only a few of them were cleansed and there were other groups called Babylonians. The Father informed these Laodiceans & Babylonians that if they refused the showers of cleansing they would be wiped out by the fire purification system at the end of the cleansing. And there were also others outside of these two garbage dumps who were totally on the side of the former evil worker. However, the residents of the Father's house called the volunteers – “men of wonder”.

After the clean-up job was completed the former evil worker was blamed for all the lies that he told as well as all the bad things that he did on account of all the scattered wastes in the poor village. Those who didn't accept the offer, tried to show up at the celebration that the CEO President held for all the towns people that volunteered to take out their garbage and place it on the street.

There was a particular fellow there who showed up from the poor village, and he was one of the ones who told lies about the Prince, saying that He would ruin the village and that another company would come and take their village away if they listened to the Prince. Then it just so happened that when he stepped into the building, the guards had to summon the Prince, since this person claimed to know the Prince and stated that he was an old friend, and that they had a disagreement and that he wanted to fix everything that took place between them and that he also wanted to enjoy the celebration.

So, when the Prince saw him, He informed the visitor that he was not dressed for the occasion, since he didn't take out his garbage and put it on the street so that the Everlasting Gospel crew could pick it up and dump it on the former evil worker. The Prince stated the following – ‘Friend! While I was with you, you didn't listen to Me and you told Me that I was wrong and that the former evil worker was right and that he was blessing the poor village. Now that you see the result of My work you want to join Me in my celebration. But it's too late for that! You now have to join your friend, the former evil worker in the garbage dump that my Father has prepared for him as well as for you, you worker of iniquity.

I also have to inform you that the colour of the clothing in this celebration is white but you are dressed in red the colour of My blood that was shed to save you in order for you to wear the white garments. But you refused and had Me thrown in the garbage dump, so away with you.’

Immediately, the order was given and the Everlasting Gospel Crew took him away and dumped him in a place where all the wicked towns people as well as the Red workers of the former evil worker were now in prison for going against the company policy which can be expressed in a mathematical formula for success.

This mathematical equation is known as the TWO IMMUTABLES which summarize the work of the Prince. Sacrifice + death = reconciliation + High Priestly CEO = cleansing = Sanctuary = clean village = good workers can now return to the far-off land as if they were never dirty or filthy.

The Prince made it clear that this was company policy – ‘My sacrifice as the garbage man and the cleansing that I offer as the CEO or President of my Father's company called the 144,000 and Great Multitude Incorporated is the Motto that we live by. No one can sue that company or take them to court. I cleansed them and no accusation can be brought against them. So now they can enjoy life with Me and will be welcomed into My Father's house where they will show others how I ran My company and how they participated in the work. They will be an example in the years to come by revealing what a great price had to be paid in order for the 144,000 and Great Multitude Incorporated to be established forever.'

As it turns out, the citizens of the Father's house were satisfied. The Father by way of His Son and CEO President had proven to them that all the accusations were false. The citizens of the Father's house were overjoyed knowing that their questions would finally be resolved and that the Father's house would not experience any danger from additional pollution. The stench from the poor villages was finally gone and the Father and the Prince again embarked upon their reconstruction projects in the Father's house.

One thousand years later the fire purification systems were brought in and carried out the final cleansing of the poor villages. A most glorious event then took place. The Father and the Prince moved down to the former poor villages and made their home with all the cleansed citizens.

From then on, life would be good, clean and exciting. The Prince stated— 'I have come to give them life more abundant'. Boy! The Prince wasn't fooling around— He was serious. Everything was so beautiful and amazing with brilliant living colours that the human mind could not comprehend the Divine artistry of the Father and the Prince was beyond our imagination.

The Theme Park

A man once wanted to purchase tickets for a new theme park that recently opened in a far-off country. It was to be the greatest and the best one as far as theme parks were concerned. He first consulted one of the Ticket Master's representatives and was provided airfare as well as a ticket and a special ID from the Ticket Master Himself.

This man was so happy about the park and his new ticket as well as his new contact with the Ticket Master's representative that he went and told all his friends about it. But to their dismay, they weren't told by the rep where they had to go, even though they were given the time.

A friend of this man; who became frustrated, went out and did the same thing. And this time he found another rep who provided him with a ticket, an ID, airfare and also the place and the hour of his appointment.

This individual was also very excited about his new contact with a new rep from the Ticket Master Himself. And so, he told his family and friends about this new connection to the theme park. But many of those family members were quite old and they didn't have the strength to remain on their feet for the long wait on the line. So, these decided to go into a rest area until they would be called.

Some of those who were young and strong decided to wait. But as time went on they began thinking to themselves by saying, 'you know guys, we have been waiting here too long, and we are here at the place and we have the right time, but the Ticket Master still hasn't arrived and we may still have to wait for quite some time.'

And so, they all decided that they could make some good money as reps, and they would then entertain those new ticket buyers who were waiting on line with stories about the greatness of the new theme park and how fun it will be. (Note that they didn't talk about the Ticket Master.)

These young entrepreneurs then decided to get in touch with other reps from other theme parks and after a while confusion began to set in; since these other theme parks could not be compared to the new one that awaited those who were waiting on the line.

After a while, some of those people which bought tickets from the second rep started getting excited about the attractions from the other theme parks, and they lost sight of their main goal; which was the theme park in the far-off country.

But there were some other young people on the line about 2 or 3 of them, and they decided that something was wrong. It was decided among them that they were to venture out and find a new Ticket rep.

With careful research, they found the individual and this individual as it turns out was the Ticket Master Himself.

He provided them with an ID as well as the ticket, air-fare, place and time and the 3 young men told him, 'yes sir, we know that and have these already in our possession'. And then the Ticket Master responded by saying, 'okay!'.

'So, now here are your new instructions. I am giving you another time and when that time arrives please meet me at this office.'

So, the young men were extremely joyful. And when the time arrived they met the Ticket Master at His office and He then told them, 'here are 3 additional passes into the theme park make sure you don't lose the 3rd pass, since it will get you into the theme park at the appointed time. And as far as that time is concerned, no one knows the day nor the hour when the park is going to open. One thing is certain, the entrance gate into the park will close one hour after the time that you meet me at the office. Get ready, and tell your friends and family.'

Then the Ticket Master uttered some strange instructions, He stated the following, 'it will be raining outside when the gate is opened, make sure that you take off your rain-coats.'

Well, it just so happens that the time arrived and the 3 young men found themselves at the entrance gate, and everyone else behind them were wearing their raincoats, and were laughing at the 3 young men who weren't wearing their raincoats. But found themselves at the front of the line.

Then all of a sudden, there was a flash of lightening, and the entrance gate was opened and the Ticket Master was present and welcomed the 3 young men into the park, and all could see that on the other side where the park was located it was extremely beautiful and the sun was shining in full strength.

The 3 young men were quickly ushered into the park and immediately towels of linen were brought out and beautiful white clothes were placed on them.

The rest of the multitudes were still outside with their raincoats. And by then the rain became a superstorm and there was no shelter. It was too late! These people had invested so much money and time and resources on false reps and at this point their vacation plans were ruined.

The Bus Driver

A Bus Driver gave a large group of people a free bus ticket to ride on His bus on a particular day. And the people believed that this ticket was all that was needed. There were present a very large group of people and they received their ticket.

But then the same Bus Driver arrived on another day and provided a free pass that the people needed along with the first free ticket. There were only a few people from the first group present in this second group.

Those who accepted the additional free pass were happy and realized that it was all free of charge. But the others kept claiming that they didn't need the additional free pass which was given on another day, since the majority were content with the free ticket that was given on that previous day.

Upon receiving the free pass; in addition to the ticket, the second group discovered that on that free pass there were 3 additional days that the bus driver would pass by in order to pick them up. All they had to do – was to be present.

On the 5th day the Bus Driver picked up the second group and they arrived at the beautiful destination. But the first group complained as to why they weren't picked up on those 4 additional days.

The Bus Driver then responded – 'You believed Me when I gave you a free ticket on the first day. But you became proud rich and increased with goods and failed to listen to My instructions, thus revealing that you didn't believe in what I had to say. There is another driver with a big red bus who is coming, and you will now have to board his bus and he charges a hefty price.'

So, they all left wondering what the Bus Driver was talking about, since they believed that the driver in the red bus would accept their free ticket.
